Kodak Day Night – Read Me

This new RA4 media from Kodak is designed for both reflective and transmissive applications. An additional benefit of the media is its paper speed processing. We have found it to have a higher Dmin than other transmissive media so subsequently, a new version of LightJet Fusion is required. This new Fusion software is part of the LightJet FE 3003.exe and can be downloaded from the Cymbolic Sciences web site.

It is not supported on the LightJet 430 or LightJet 500XL due to media seating inconsistencies. LightJet 5000's with old style transports are also not supported. Customers are hereby informed that use of this media is at their own risk. As some users are presently successful using it on the LightJet 430, we still offer limited support for calibration issues.
